AI Literacy Kit for Pharmacovigilance

Edition 1.0 · Licensor: Reinhold Schilling · Nelkenstr. 10 · 71149 Bondorf · reinhold@schilling-vigilance.com

1. Scope

This licence sets out the rights of use in the Kit. The Kit is sold directly by the Licensor on invoice. The purchase contract, delivery and payment are governed by the order confirmation and the Licensor's terms of sale. The Kit is intended for businesses.
Training services that the Licensee books separately, such as a live online train-the-trainer session or on-site training, are governed by the Licensor's Training Services Terms. They are not part of the Kit.

2. Licensee

The Licensee is the company that bought the Kit. If a person bought it, the Licensee is the company for which that person bought it, as stated on the invoice.

3. What you may do

(1) The Licensee has a simple, non-transferable right to use this edition of the Kit for internal training of its own personnel and that of companies affiliated with it within the meaning of section 15 AktG. (2) Contractors may use the material while, and only so far as, they work on the Licensee's activities. (3) The Licensee may adapt and copy the material and load it into its own learning system, and may keep and use its adapted versions and training records. (4) This right covers this edition and has no end date.

4. What you may not do

(1) No passing the Kit on to third parties, publishing or reselling it. (2) No use of the Kit in training or consulting services for third parties. (3) A PV service provider may train its own personnel with the Kit, including personnel who work for its clients. It may not hand the material to clients or offer training with it.

5. Nature of the Kit

(1) The Kit is a package of materials for use under the Licensee's own responsibility. The Licensee decides on, performs and documents training. (2) Unless training services are booked separately under section 1, the Licensor provides no teaching, no supervision of learners, no review of learner work, no answering of learners' content questions and no monitoring of learning outcomes. Assessment results stay with the Licensee. (3) The Kit is training material. It is neither legal advice nor a validated system, and it gives no assurance about the result of an audit or inspection. It must be adapted and approved under the Licensee's quality system before use.

6. Corrections and new editions

Corrections to this edition are provided on request for 12 months after purchase. New editions are separate products. The Licensor has no duty to monitor regulatory changes on the Licensee's behalf.

7. Liability

(1) The Licensor is liable without limitation for intent and gross negligence and for injury to life, body or health. (2) For slightly negligent breach of essential obligations, liability is limited to the foreseeable damage typical for this type of contract, and at most to the price paid. Otherwise liability for slight negligence is excluded.

8. Law

German law applies, excluding the UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods.
